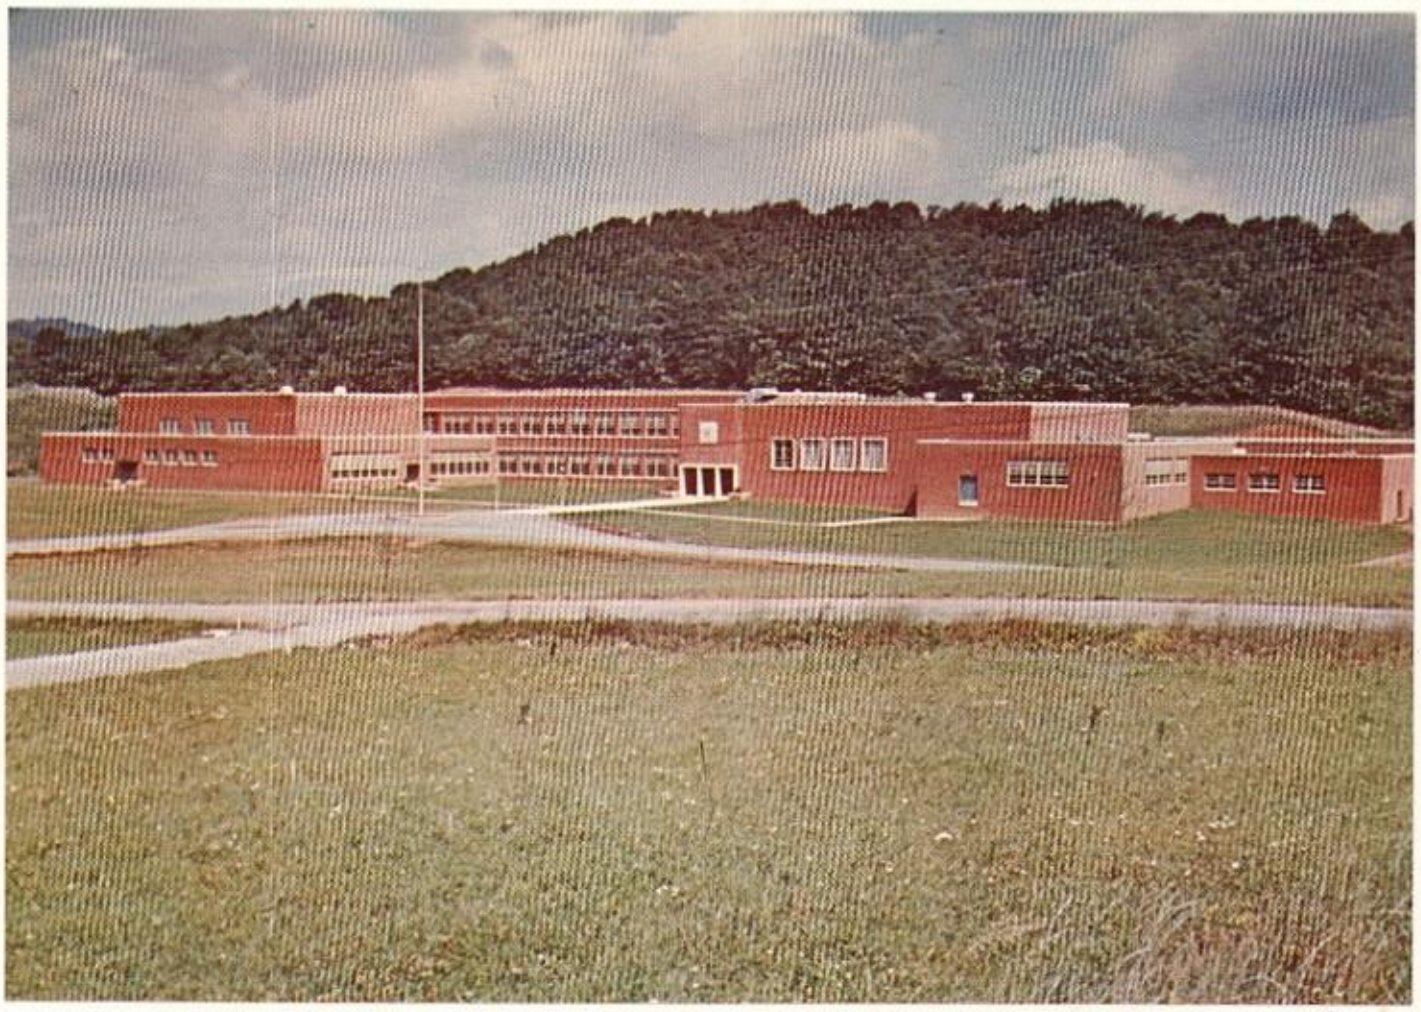
THE GRAHAM
1968



Public education is our first line of defense.

Published by

GRAHAM HIGH SCHOOL

Bluefield, Virginia

The staff unanimously agreed to honor Graham service men everywhere by dedicating this year's annual to them.

In a time of unrest among many young people, we think it fitting to honor those who seek to preserve our democratic way of life.

December Days

A CHORAL READING

The speech class, directed by Miss Eleanor Douthat, presented a choral reading of the Christmas story.

CHRISTMAS EVERYWHERE

Mrs. Barnett's home economics classes held open house to display the many different decorations they had made.

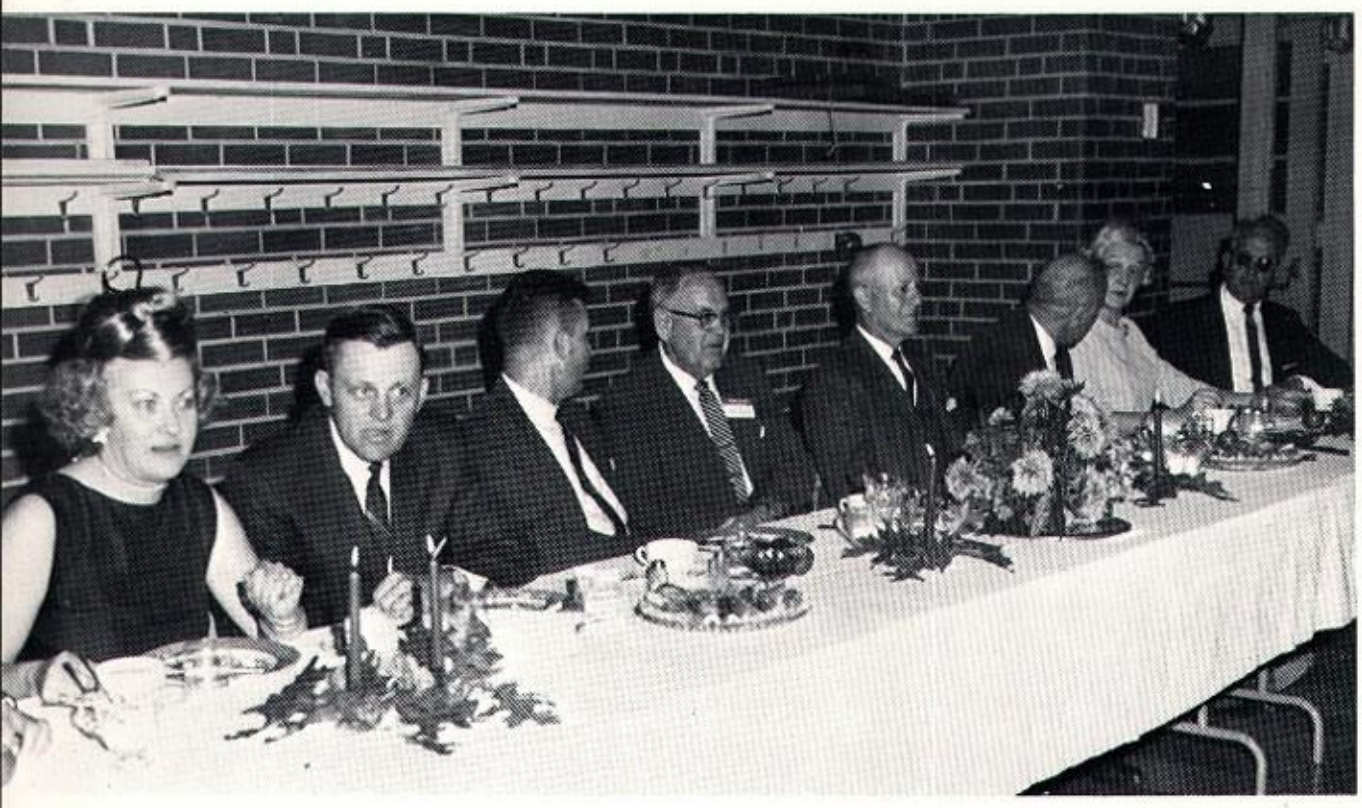
LA! LA!

The GAA, accompanied by their sponsor Mrs. Hill, warmed the chilly air with their cheerful songs.

"BORN IS THE KING . . . "

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Richardson, helped us feel the real spirit of Christmas with their inspiring numbers in the pre-holiday program.

Evaluation



VIP'S VISIT GRAHAM

Evaluators, school board members, and special guests enjoyed the banquet held the first evening of the evaluation. Teachers and visitors enjoyed the opportunity to meet informally.

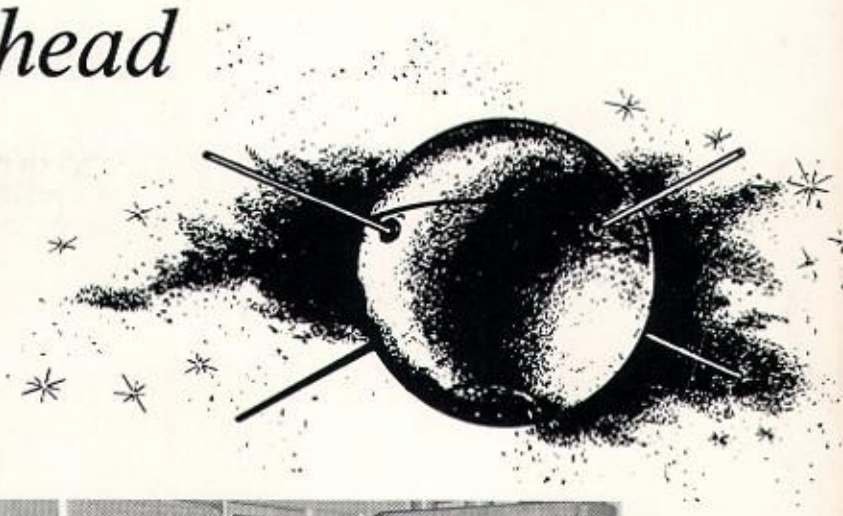
SUCCESS

Graham was officially accepted into the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools after the evaluation was completed. The presentation was made in Dallas, Texas, in November, Everyone agreed that the results were well worth the effort.

TEACHERS HARD AT WORK

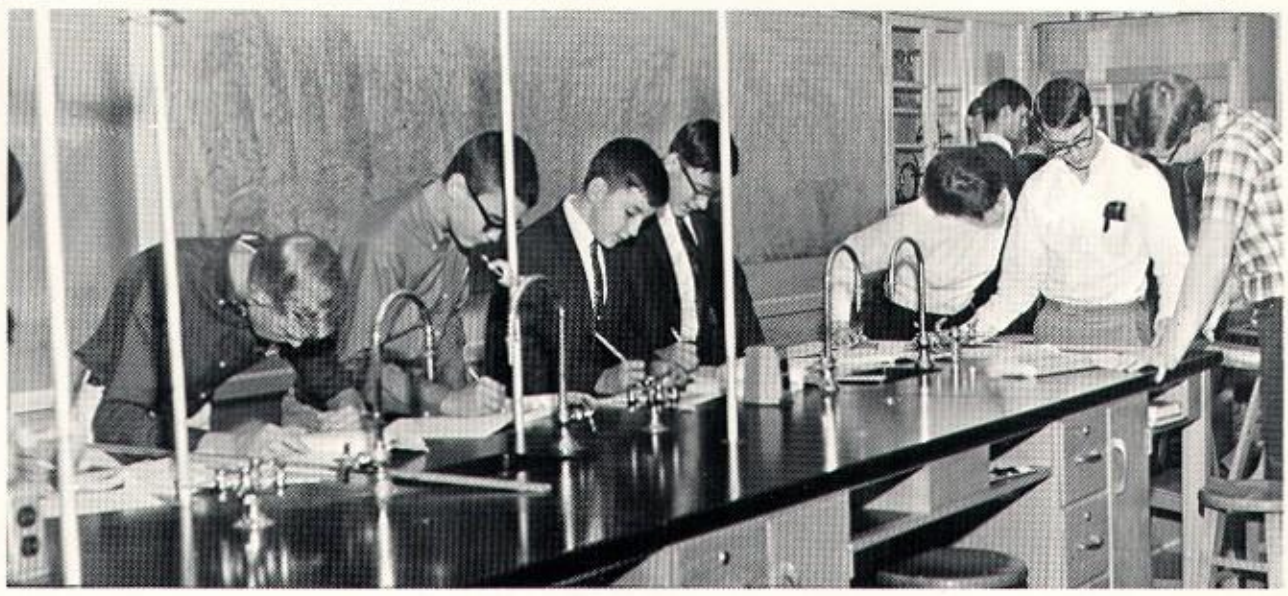
Teachers at Graham worked for over a year on the information needed for the evaluation. Sighs of relief were heard when the "self evaluation" was in book form.

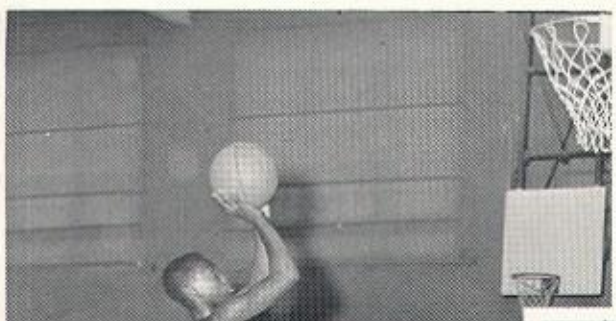
Graham Moves Ahead



BSCS AND IME

Biological Science Curriculum Study, a modern laboratory approach to biology, and Interaction of Matter and Energy, the new problem approach to science, illustrate progress in the Science Department at GHS.





OFFICE PRACTICE

New machines and techniques are almost as good as on the job training for business students.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

A trained mind in a healthy body promotes the best interest of the individual and the nation.

READING IS THE KEY TO UNDERSTANDING

There is no excuse if "Johnny can't read" because we have a modern reading laboratory at Graham.

We Salute You

The job of principal takes a great deal of serious thought and work.

Mr. Brown's cheerful songs can be heard through the halls every day.

Even busy principals eat.

MR. CLARK M. BROWN

Mr. Clark M. Brown was born in Elkins, West Virginia, and was graduated from Elkins High School in 1922. After attending prep school for a year at Princeton, New Jersey, Mr. Brown continued his education at Davidson and Elkins College and Grove City College in Grove City, Pennsylvania. He did graduate work at West Virginia University before coming to Bluefield, West Virginia, where he taught at Fairview (7 years) and Beaver (7 years) while coaching at these schools.

After working at the Jewel Ridge Coal Company, he attended UVA where he earned a masters degree. Mr. Brown has been at Graham for six years, coming here from Richlands.

Mr. Brown's interest in athletics has never faded, but he says his main interest now is in promoting better education. After 41 years of diligent and hard work he is ready to "take it easy".
